

All the classes currently offered and being taught at Istanbul Kent University are being taught in Turkish at the moment; however, courses offered and taught in English will soon be available for our University's students and our international exchange programs.

Please stand by for future notifications.